

HIS HONOR.

Ben Hillard Takes the Shot Gun to Avenge His
Wrongs.Had Shooting Say Joe McHamlett
From Croaking. The Gail-test Escapes.

The citizens of the Fourth ward were disturbed yesterday, by two loud reports of a shotgun which came from the nest of negro shanties in the alley running from Third to Fourth streets, between Mary and Jackson. There are several cabins there on each side of the alley, very close together. A crowd of people rushed to the scene to see Officer John McHamlett leading off Ben Hillard, a young colored man, from whom he had just taken a double-barrel breech loading shotgun. In one of the cabins Joe McHamlett was stretched out on a bed, with blood running out of a wound in his shoulder, and in the next house, on the same side of the alley, Alvin Johnson, a colored woman, was wounded in the shoulder. Mack Hamlett said that he was shot by Ben Hillard. He said that while Ben was in jail.

BEN'S WIFE

had stood at his house, and that he and Ben had had no quarrel. That during the evening, while he was working at his bench, he was told by some one that a woman wanted to see him. He went into Ben's mother's house, which adjoined his, and in front of his facing the alley, while his was farther back in the yard. He was standing in front of the door leading to the alley when he saw Ben in the yard raise a gun and shoot at him; he then ran out in an alley and started toward Fourth street. Ben followed me into the alley and called to me, saying that he would shoot, and immediately after fired at me. I was shot, and turned around and told him not to shoot any more, but he stood in the alley with the gun in his hand, working with the trigger until Mr. McHamlett arrested him.

ALVIN JOHNSON

said she was in her house and heard the two shots, but saw nothing of the difficulty. When the second shot was fired she was struck by one of the bullets.

THE CONFESSION.

A reporter visited Ben Hillard in the jail and asked him to make a statement and he made the following confession which is about the truth of the matter: "Almost a year ago I traded with a negro down to Grand for a diamond pin. I had no idea of its value and when I returned to see I stuck it in my shirt and wore it around. The pin had been stolen and I was arrested and put in jail, charged with the crime. For nine months I had in jail and was finally released on bond a few days ago. My first thought was for my wife and two little children, to whom I was greatly attached, to whom I was living with McHamlett, a negro jeweler tinker, who lived back of my mother's house. I learned that my wife and a colored man named Charlie Johnson had been living too intimately during my stay in jail and that McHamlett at whose house my wife was living was playing the part of a procurer in the matter. I had been staying at McHamlett's until I could move my family away. Every one in the house including Johnson slept in the same room, and on Monday I discovered what I believe was a plot to kill me. Monday night I slept at my sister's house across the alley. This morning I tried to persuade my wife to leave the house with me, but she told me that she did not think as much of me as she used to and refused. I told her some one had been talking to her against me and made her say who it was and she told me McHamlett. I had a talk with McHamlett and all the satisfaction I got was to be ordered off and told not to come back to the house. I started up town and on the way I met Johnson. I told him how much I was and begged him to let her alone, to which he replied with curses. My patience was then exhausted. I heard in the town how Johnson had boasted of his intimacy with my wife and that he had bullied me, and that he was carrying a pistol for me. I was then desperate and went to Anbold's gun store, where I hired a double-barrel shotgun and had him fill four cartridges with buckshot. I told him I was going hunting. I went down to my mother's house and sat down on the alley fence to wait for Johnson. While I was sitting there, McHamlett spoke to me. He was just going in the door of my mother's house. I don't remember what he said, but it was something that made me more angry, and I got down off the fence and started in the house by the shed room door. When I got into the shed room the gun went off accidentally, the load striking the door. McHamlett ran out of the house into the alley and I followed him. He ran around the yard and tried to get an axe which was there. When I saw him after the axe I hollered at him and fired. I thought I had missed him, as the shot struck the side of Alvin Johnson's house. I tried to load the gun, but did not understand how to work it, and Mr. John McHamlett came up and arrested me."

ATTACHED TO MY WIFE

After taking Hillard's confession the reporter revisited the scene and found the shot in the floor of the shed room as he had stated. He also found the axe lying where Ben had stated and also the holes made in the side of Alvin Johnson's house. They had penetrated the wall and lodged on the walls opposite. It was one of those birds which struck her. Neither of the wounds are serious and the wounded will be out to-day.

CRIMINAL MATTERS.

THE PASHANDEE THIEVES.

PITTSBURG, April 19.—Detectives have concluded the work of examining the trunks and boxes removed from the abode of the Pashandee railway men. The detectives report enough stolen property found among the prisoner's effects to start a general store. It is authoritatively stated to day that one of the prisoners has made a confession which covers nearly twenty pages of legal cap paper. The confession details the methods of the robbers, and implicates several of the men under arrest. There is no probability of the men now at work going out because other train men are in trouble. The strike was talked of at recent meetings, but as it did not meet with much favor, the matter was dropped.

A CRUEL DEED.

St. Joseph, Mo., April 19.—Peter H. Raneke, a Bohemian, returned home last night, convinced that his wife was untrue to her marriage vow. As he entered the room she was rocking her baby.

IN ITS CRADLE.

and without warning he fired three shots into her from a large revolver, killing her instantly. No one ventured into the house, and for an hour he remained with his victim. Finally officers ventured near and saw him fondly caressing the dead body. Thereupon they pounced down upon him in time to tell a party of men who were preparing to lynch the murderer.

DETERMINED TO QUASH.

CHICAGO, April 19.—Judge Tuttle this morning overruled the motion to quash the indictments against McCarrie, McDonald and others, charging conspiracy, executed and unexecuted.

FEARFUL NOTES.

Street Railways—Improving the Road Bed—Transferred.

ST. LOUIS, April 19.—Eleven cars of steel rails passed this point on the Missouri Pacific railway, to-day, destined to be placed on the track of that corporation, between Abbott and Waco. A gang of forty-five convicts are at work on the Missouri Pacific track near here and will continue to work for several months in this region. It is said that two gravel trains will be put on as it is the purpose of the company to make the road bed, first-class, between Alvin and Waco.

Several brick houses are being built and there are many evidences of rapid improvement in this town.

Mr. G. E. Thomas formerly Loren agent of the Missouri Pacific Railway Company has been transferred to Grandview, as agent of the same company.

A Combat with Eagles.

From the Youth's Companion.

At each divide the birds came closer to our heads. We grew alarmed, but were determined not to lose our fish, and jumped up and began to brandish our sucker spears and strike at them as they flew at us. This show of resistance seemed only to exasperate the great birds. They swooped closer, hissing loudly as they passed our heads and snapping their yellow bills.

In striking at them we had both got some paces away from our fish, when suddenly, with a still lower dive, one of the eagles, for such they were, seized my string in his claws and dragged it along the ground for a number of rods. I meantime rushing after him, trying to give him a blow, but was unable to quite reach him.

The bird had clutched two of the fish in his talons and tearing them off the string, he rapidly mounted into the air and sailed away with a triumphant scream.

Hearing a clatter of stones and a loud scream behind me, I turned to see Jimmy doing battle with the other eagle, which had swooped down upon him at the same moment that its mate assailed me.

Jimmy had dealt it a tremendous blow with his spear and knocked it down. It stood on the ground with one wing trailing off, but screaming savagely and evidently ready for battle.

Without further ado we both dashed at the robber and beat him with our spears. But we found our match. The big bird met us fully half way, screaming and jumping at us with the ferocity of a bulldog, and with every clutch of its talons tore out great pieces from our jackets and trousers. In less time than I have given to describe his attack we found ourselves scratched and bleeding freely, with our jackets and trousers in shreds.

I had had quite enough of it, and backed off as fast as I could, thinking dubiously of what mother would say when I got home with my torn clothes. In fact, both of us were whimpering and the eagle still screaming.

Seeing me on the retreat, Jimmy turned and ran too. But the eagle followed him, and with an exultant shriek, stuck its claws into his back. There it hung screaming loudly, and Jimmy running and crying.

My heart was in my mouth, but seeing Jimmy's danger I plucked up my courage and gave chase after him. We ran down through the rough pasture for two yards or more, and then Jimmy cut the race short by tumbling over a cradle knoll.

The eagle still clung to him, flapping its wings, but turned on me as I ran up. With a swing of the long spear handle, I struck at it, sideways, and fortunately hit its head with the iron shoulder of the line. It tumbled over, stunned, and Jimmy jumping up we both thrashed and pounded it to death with the spear and the stones.

When sat down and had our cry out, staining the blood from our scratches—some of which were ugly cuts—and patching up our clothes so that we could look decent to go home.

We then got on our suckers, and I remember that we dragged the eagle after us with an alder withe. The folks at home pronounced it a pretty large specimen of a bald or white headed eagle, but Jimmy and I had supposed we were fighting a hawk. The eagles were, of course, attracted by the smell of our fish.

A Bark Amid Mountains of Ice.

From the Philadelphia Record.
The Norwegian bark, Havfruen, which arrived at Walnut street wharf yesterday from Aarhus, made a narrow escape from total destruction by icebergs while on the Grand Banks. On March 1, in latitude 44 degrees and 4 minutes, longitude 43 degrees and 54 minutes the thermometer indicated the presence of ice without any being seen until late in the day, when one berg was passed in the distance. That night nothing could be heard but the mighty ice bergs striking against one another with tremendous force and the breaking of the heavy seas upon them. At the dawn of day the Havfruen found herself entirely surrounded by icebergs and in the midst of a field of ice that stretched away on all sides as far as could be seen from the foretopmast. Some of the bergs were of immense height, running to sharp pointed icepeaks resembling church spires, while streams of water poured down their sides as they yielded to the warm temperature into which they had drifted. The crew breathed free when they parted company with these monsters of the sea, and now wonder at their miraculous escape.

A Quick Recovery.

It gives us great pleasure to state that the merchant who was reported being at the point of death from an attack of pneumonia, has entirely recovered by the use of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. Naturally, he feels grateful for the benefits derived from using this remedy for the lungs and throat, and in giving publicity to this statement we are actuated by motives of public beneficence, trusting that others may be benefited in a similar manner.

FANS, FANS, FANS.

Plain satin fans, hand painted fans, feather fans, mourning fans. We have just received a full line of new and pretty styles. Painted and plain satin fans at 45c, 50c, 65c, 75c and $1 each. Imported feather fans with ivory handles at $5, worth $8. Full line of all sizes in satin fan fans.

SANGER BROS.

The Iron Front

has completely remodeled its billiard room, which change the guests of the house will find for their comfort in every way.

The Iron Turbine wind engines run with less wind and are more durable and gives better satisfaction than any mill in the market. Call and see model at Schroeder & Harrison's and be your own judge. Every one guaranteed. Buy the Iron Turbine Engine and the Buckeye Force pump, and you are sure to be pleased.

GERMS.

Their Universal Prevalence, Dangerous Character and Cure.

These are facts—these are solemn truths, and they demand the most serious attention. These germs must be killed; they must be annihilated, but how? Prof. Austin Flint, of Bellevue Hospital College, New York, says: "The practice of medicine during the last half century has been the history of the treatment of organic diseases of the heart and of the arteries. It has been a history of failure. It has been a history of suffering. It has been a history of death. It has been a history of misery. It has been a history of despair. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of honor. It has been a history of fame. It has been a history of power. It has been a history of wealth. It has been a history of influence. It has been a history of respect. It has been a history of admiration. It has been a history of love. It has been a history of friendship. It has been a history of peace. It has been a history of joy. It has been a history of life. It has been a history of hope. It has been a history of triumph. It has been a history of glory. It has been a history of